Investor sentiment weakened due to negative global cues and a stronger U.S. dollar. Meanwhile, the U.S. Appeals Court's decision to temporarily pause a lower court's ruling on tariff suspension was viewed as a potentially positive step, as it allows more time for a thorough review of the legal arguments and documentation.

Value and Growth Fund

Definition: Growth and value are the two most common investment strategies. These two styles of investment have different set of characteristics that make either, or both suitable for investors based on the investment objective of the investor. During different economic conditions, either of these strategies can dominate.

Explanation

A basic principal behind value investing is that markets are inefficient and investors can benefit from this anomaly. In other words, value investing is about finding stocks that the market has not correctly priced. It involves buying a stock on the basis of its fundamentals which include earning growth, cash flow, dividend yield, book value and replacement cost. If the company's fundamentals are strong but the stock's price is below its obvious value, then there arises a value investing opportunity. On the other hand, growth investing targets stocks which have above average earning growth rate, above average sales growth rate and low dividend yield.
